Mass Vaccination Drive in UK - a positive sign for students

Giving hope to International students, UK initiated vaccination drive which brings more students forward to move to UK for further studies; 21% students resume their study abroad plans as per a survey released by higher education company, Quacquarelli Symonds (QS).

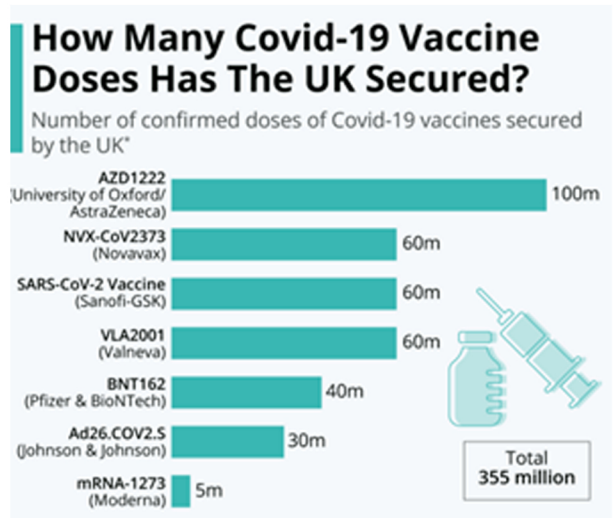

Furthermore, the UK government confirms that the students will not be charged to apply for testing or treatment for Covid-19. While the order was placed for 40 million doses, the country has gained access to 357 million vaccine doses through multiple developers making UK to maintain its top position as the perfect choice for international students.

UK creating history

Accepting the recommendation from Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Authority (MHRA) to approve the vaccination, UK hereby, becomes the first country to license a Covid-19 vaccine. The country has procured 355 million vaccine doses from seven different companies. The government also confirms free testing or treatment in relation to Covid-19 for international students. Also, they will be able to access the vaccine just as any other healthcare facility. It is required for every person to have 2 doses of this vaccine for full immunity where in there should be a gap of 20 days in both the doses resulting in person securing full immunity on the 28th day.

When comparisons become a trouble...

Comparison makes a huge difference when it comes to writing a report in IELTS academic writing TASK 1. There are a number of common words and phrases that we use to make comparisons:

Compare something (to/with something)

The graph compares the death rates in India and the US.

Compared to/with something

Men's income rose by 31 % compared to only 13% for women.

in comparison (to/with something)

US workers get very little holiday in comparison with their European counterparts.

(draw/make) a comparison between two things

There is no comparison between my life here and the way of life in my home village.

Something is bigger/higher/lower/more important, etc. than something else

Kerala has more temples than any other Indian city.

Something is double/half, etc. that of something else

China's population density is double that of India.

Check if the following sentences are right. Choose those which are wrong.

1. 88.8 million people travelled abroad in 2008, comparing to 84.8 million in 2010.
2. Non-smokers' risk of heart attacks is roughly half that of people who smoke.
3. In comparison with other writers, she uses very simple, everyday language.
4. There is no comparison to watching a band on DVD and seeing them play live.
5. The pass rate was over 70% in 2010, compared to 62% in 1960.
6. Many more crimes were committed by males compared to females.
7. The article draws a comparison between his writing and that of earlier authors.
8. Population growth is quite high in Madagascar at 3.31 % when compared to Mauritius at 0.89%.

STUDENTS SPEAK

There are a lot of education consultants creating false or misleading impressions. I have met with consultants before and they ended up being terrible. By God's grace, I stumbled upon Fateh Education website. When I read the details, I really felt that these guys knew what they were talking about. I took a leap of faith and decided to go to them and it was definitely NOT something I regret! A special thanks to Ms. Lhamo Tsamchoe. She was the one who guided me through the entire process and loaded me with amazing information I didn't know before. She took care of all the application process and has been helping me for almost a year now.

I am really grateful to Jayati mam and Fateh education for providing me the best learning experience. The regular classes and mock tests prepared me thoroughly the IELTS exam. I enjoyed learning as my trainer (Jayati Mam) explained all the concepts in a very easy and simple manner. I am fortunate to be a student of fateh education and learn from the best teacher. It was a very beautiful journey with Fateh Education as I gained confidence and I am really thankful to all the staff members of Fateh Education for providing me all the facilities so that I can crack the exam with flying colours. The material which was provided to me was very helpful and productive and it helped me soo much to achieve my desired score.
